Work...“Works” ...a strategic public-private partnership

Work...“Works” is a community based employment initiative that provides vocational training and life coaching for people who want to work to liberate themselves from the cycle of poverty.

The initiative is a partnership between the Center for Urban Poverty Solutions (a program of UAEA), World Wide Business Service and local employers who are willing to give program participants a chance for full-time employment.

Every $1600 provides a full Scholarship for vocational training and 12 months of life coaching and employment retention support.

The cost breaks down as follows:

$350 for: Background Checks, Drug Testing & Soft-Skills Training

$900 - $1200 for: Most Job Specific Training Classes & Licenses or Certifications

$350 for: On-going Life coaching & Job Retention Support (including Bus Passes, Gas Cards, etc.)

To date this initiative has trained and placed over 30 people in employment with local employers.

You gift is tax-deductible and 100% of it goes to offset the costs of this program.
